The Tiger

"To every thing there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven."

With the opening of our fall school session, the students of C. S. C. S. begin to prepare themselves for another memorable year of activities.

As the seasons evolve, enthusiasm mounts for our numerous athletic victories and scholastic achievements.

The students march wholeheartedly through the traditions of their unforgettable school days.

Come and review the seasons past in the 1966 THE TIGER.

Dedication

To one who gives unselfishly of herself yet never expects any reward other than the personal satisfaction of helping others,

To one whose never failing interest in the individual inspires all who know her to greater success,

To one whose understanding has helped many a tearful student prepare for the world outside,

To one whose energies are spent entirely for C. S. C. S.,

To a friend who always manages to have time for those who need encouragement and praise for those who succeed,

To a librarian in the fullest sense of the word, Mrs. White S. Graves, Jr., we dedicate our 1966 THE TIGER.

Helping students find interesting books for books reports is another interesting aspect of being a librarian.

Taking the key from the box each morning is a small duty in Mrs. Graves' busy workday.

Many of Mrs. Graves hectic hours are spent cataloging and selecting numerous research materials.

Board of Trustees

The duties of the local school board are to aid in the formation of school policies and act as custodians of the grounds and buildings.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

"Go Tigers!" bounces off the walls of the C. S. C. S. gym as the seven cheerleaders - Barbara Nell Lewis, Janet Barlow, Toni Conn, Martha Little, Chery Worden, Mary Low Knight, and Judy Jackson - lead the student body during the football pep rallies. These girls embody the spirit of the school with their enthusiasm, yells, and leadership of the student body during pep rallies, football, and basketball games.

The cheerleaders' purpose is to create school spirit, loyalty, interest, and sportsmanship in school sponsored activities. Although being a cheerleader often requires staying after school, as well as strict-disciplined summer practices, it is well worth the effort when all the students yell and the Tiger teams go on to victories.
